Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America; this includes the design, implementation, and maintenance of internal control relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's Responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessment, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's internal preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of significant accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements referred to above present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida as of June 30, 2019 and the changes in its net assets and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with accounting principles generally accepted in the United States of America.

The purpose of that report is to describe the scope of our testing of internal control over financial reporting and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida's internal control over financial reporting or on compliance. That report is an integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering The Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida's internal control over financial reporting and compliance.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT ON INTERNAL CONTROL OVER FINANCIAL REPORTING AND ON COMPLIANCE AND OTHER MATTERS BASED ON AN AUDIT OF FINANCIAL STATEMENTS PERFORMED IN ACCORDANCE WITH GOVERNMENT AUDITING STANDARDS

To The Board of Directors
Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc.
Of Miami, Florida.

We have audited, in accordance with the auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America and the standards applicable to financial audits contained in Government Auditing Standards, issued by the Comptroller General of the United States. the financial statements of Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida (a non-profit organization) which comprise the statement of financial position as of June 30, 2019, and the related statements of activities and cash flows for the year then ended,, and the related notes to the financial statements, and have issued our report thereon dated September 27, 2019.

Internal Control over Financial Reporting

In planning and performing our audit of the financial statements, we considered Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida internal control over financial reporting (internal control) to determine the audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida 's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida's internal control

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent, or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented, or detected and corrected on a timely basis. A significant deficiency is a deficiency, or a combination of deficiencies, in internal control that is less severe than a material weakness, yet important enough to merit attention by those charges with governance.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph of this section and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be material weaknesses or significant deficiencies and therefore, material weaknesses or significant deficiencies may exist that have not been identified. Given these limitations, during our audit we did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses.

Compliance and Other Matters

As part of obtaining reasonable assurance about whether Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida financial statements are free from material misstatement, we performed tests of its compliance with certain provisions of laws, regulations, contracts, and grant agreements, noncompliance with which could have a direct and material effect on the determination of financial statement amounts. However, providing an opinion on compliance with those provisions was not an objective of our audit, and accordingly, we do not express such an opinion. The results of our tests disclosed instances of noncompliance or other matters that are required to be reported under Government Auditing Standards and which are described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs as item #2019-01.

Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida's Response to Findings

Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida's response to the findings identified in our audit is described in the accompanying schedule of findings and questioned costs. Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida's response was not subjected to the auditing procedures applied in the audit of the financial statements and, accordingly, we express no opinion on it.

Purpose of this Report

The purpose of this report is solely to describe the scope of our testing of internal control and compliance and the results of that testing, and not to provide an opinion on the effectiveness of the organization's internal control or on compliance. This report is integral part of an audit performed in accordance with Government Auditing Standards in considering Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida the organization's internal control and compliance. Accordingly, this communication is not suitable for any other purpose.

Disagreements with Management

For purposes of this letter, professional standards define a disagreement with management as a financial accounting, reporting, or auditing matter, whether or not resolved to our satisfaction, that could be significant to the financial statements or the auditor's report. We are pleased to report that no such disagreements arose during the course of our audit.

We have requested certain representations from management that are included in the management representation letter dated September 27, 2019.

Management Consultations with Our Independent Accountants

In some cases, management may decide to consult with others accountants about auditing and accounting matters, similar to obtaining a "second opinion" on certain situations. If a consultation involves application of an accounting principle to the Organization's financial statements or a determination of the type of auditor's opinion that may be expressed on those statements, our professional standards require the consulting accountant to check with us to determine that the consultant has all the relevant facts. To our knowledge, there were no such consultations with other accountants.

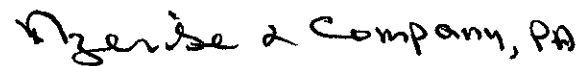

Other Audit Findings or Issues

We generally discuss a variety of matters, including the application of accounting principles and auditing standards, with management each year prior to retention as the Organization's auditors. However, these discussions occurred in the normal course of our professional relationship and our responses were not a condition to our retention.

This information is intended solely for the use of Board of Directors and management of Richmond-Perrine Optimist Club, Inc. of Miami, Florida and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other that these specified parties.

Schedule of Findings and Recommendations
For the Year Ended June 30, 2019

NON-COMPLIANCES

Finding: #2019-01

Criteria: The agency case workers are required to provide certain number of services such as basic education, individual and counseling, school and home visitation to kids within the program.

Condition: We tested some case files of participants in Naranja youth services and noted that the case worker did not meet the number of services required.

Effect: The participants may have received less program services as the worker combines these services together in a session.

Cause: Case worker's oversight.

Recommendation: The agency should ensure that case workers provided these services separately as specified.

Management Responses:

The Agency agrees with this finding. After review of the documentation and verbal conversation with caseworker, in an effort to make sure the client received all of the scheduled sessions for the month, the caseworker had client to make up an individual counseling session that took place on a day another activity was scheduled. Therefore, the client signed in for the activity and the caseworker notated an Individual Counseling Session on the same sign-in log.

The agency will ensure, going forward, that caseworkers continue to maintain proper sign-in logs for all activities and sessions separately as instructed. This will show all activities and counseling sessions are being held.
